PRODUCT OVERVIEW

Graphene is said to be a "miracle material" due to an abundance of beneficial properties. While expensive to manufacture, there are alternative forms of it that offers identical performance like reduced graphene oxide (rGO).

The compatibility of rGO and polymer matrixes allows us to offer you a revolutionary product that is Polydimethylsiloxane (PDMS) based with rGO added. Combining the functionality and benefits of both PDMS and rGO unprecedented in the automotive care industry, Artideshine's Nano Graphene Coating provides you with a reliable and effective surface protection solution.

Combining the low thermal conductivity of PDMS and the ability of rGO to resist corrosion and disperse heat quickly, the cooler surface reduces the effects of water etching, corrosion and harmful chemical reactions caused by contaminants like rain-water, bird droppings, bug splatter, tree-sap, etc. reacting with UV or heat from the sun.

Detailed information on this product can be found in the installer's guide.
